Summer 2018

Open doors to exciting teaching opportunities all over the world

What is Cambridge CELTA

The Cambridge CELTA is a 4 week intensive course validated and assessed by the University of Cambridge and is the most internationally recognized initial teaching qualification for English as a second language. No matter where you take the course, its form, quality and output are always identical.

The CELTA course is designed to help you develop effective and principled teaching practice. As well as receiving input from your tutors about key topic areas related to teaching English, you will also have substantial hands-on teaching practice to turn theory into practice.

CELTA is required as a minimum teaching qualification by thousands of educational institutions worldwide and as such it opens the doors to teaching opportunities in numerous countries giving the certificate holders the opportunity for a career change or just a gap year spent abroad.
